A special three-judge federal court which will hear the case in which Clay L. Shaw seeks to halt his prosecution on charges of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy was named last week. The court will be made up of Judge Robert A. Ainsworth Jr. of the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, and District Judges Frederick J. R. Heebe and James A. Comiskey. The hearing has indefinitely postponed the scheduled June 11 start of the trial in state criminal district court.
